

TO BOX IN SOUTH.

New Orleans will probably be the scene of a "made-for-day" first fight since he was the champion in from Jess Willard's defeat at New Orleans. That city has signed Dempsey for a second championship bout—this time to receive $125,000 for his side. Tetterton has announced that he will have a second fight with Dempsey next month when he had next month when he had beaten the British heavyweight, George Satterthwaite. The French champion was in a contest. The promoter's agreement was completely nullified on December 26th against Carpenter. Dempsey has also received an offer to fight Jess Willard, promoter to meet Bill Brennan in a match prior to Buckett and Harrison bout, which will probably take place on St. Patrick's day.

ONE of the proudest records in the history of the state school of Mines will be completed on Thanksgiving day when the essayer football team meets an all star eleven of army officers at El Grande park for the district football championship. The Mines team since it started the season has not sidestepped any team in the southwest but has met eleven which had a decisive edge on it; in preparation but has acquitted itself creditably in every contest. Annual games with the New Mexico University, Arizona University and the Roosevelt military institute will be played in El Paso as a result of the sportsmanlike conduct of the Mines team this season.

The team is being handled by Tommy Dwyer who has served as coach for a number of years and is also a former football player of note. The team is shown above as it lined up for Saturday afternoon's contest with the New Mexico University team. Heading from left to right the players are: Cordova, end; Parronito, backfield; Wambel, forward; Rhew, end; Leon, guard; Sullivan, center; Bailey, half back; Robinson, center; McClure, half back; Magruder, tackle; Madden, guard; Love, guard; Wright, center; McCormick, center; Brown, end; Tighe, tackle; Wineburg, guard; Schaffer, half back; Weeks, quarterback; Worthington, quarterback; Broderick, full back; Fox, end; Seamas, quarterback; Herbert, guard; Muller, half back; McKemy, end; E. Wilson, end; Knox, quarterback.

Also, trail cutters swinging heavy machetes (knives) made progress through the undergrowth which is of a patchy growth due measure to rapidly in growth.

THE jungles are a constant source of interest. Located in Zapatera, Columbia, South America, pending the arrival of a business expedition from Bogotá, the capital of Columbia, was an African named "Mama" (mother). My only means of killing time was exploring the surrounding country in every direction, always accompanied by my aggregation of huntmen, even in number. To watch, study and investigate all the life and plants of the country so different in the tropics from what we find in American countries—was to me the most satisfying source of pleasure.

My attendants were allotted their special tasks. One carried the rifle, brass canteen, coconuts, all wearing in sandals. Hunting was done with bows and arrows. Others properly equipped with rifles, shot game and revolvers; they never wear—like the rest and carried many pride centered on their responsibility.

There was a difference of opinion as to the value of the trip. Many were also utilized in action. Many of the differences of misadventure.

Better-Than Russia.—The difference was highly true, in enabling the day's adventure down to the river. The first trouble afflicting was water and other exotic insects and equipment. The first trouble was the first trouble; they seem to be no protection. Have been so easily compelled to stop in the jungle. The first trouble was the first trouble; they seem to be no protection. Valuable and Peculiar.—The value of the trip, both high esteem and protected by natives, who have a high regard for the trip. flush of silver could be seen far down in the ocean. Continuous "pumping" started his series of final charges gradually playing him into the gaffing circle, where Joe officiated. Once in the boat his tail beat a tattoo until quieted by the club roars.

ANSWERS TO HIMSELF.
Question.
"Are far farms being established where far-bearing animals are raised?"
Answer.
"I am not sure, but I think a little on this line of thing. Am at the trapper and know animals ways. Would it be easier to raise than it is to trap for the market?"
Clara Anderson.
"Would suggest that you go to the state capital building in Lincoln, Nebraska, and ask for Mr. Carl Avery state game warden, who is conversant with every phase of far farming and who will advise you in connection with it. It is impossible for me to tell you which is the easier or more intricate, trapping or raising. Presume there is a difference of grade in roughness with intelligent care of the far."

name as you will find in agriculture. Avery will give you all desired information.

Question.

"When a man is caught with a gun hunting afield, what is done with the gun? Is it returned to him?"

"In Mississippi, as in every other state, when a man is located by one of the wardens, without a license or trapping tag, he is arrested, his accessories confiscated. When escorted he is fined $100. If he is caught on a public advertised auction sale and sold to the highest bidder by the State, he is returned to him, unless the auction fails of conviction.

"The way of the transgressor is straight. Every year, thousands of men are expected every year as game is drawn in more scarce, and the law arrests trouble."

Professional billiard players are fast reaching the stage where they can, without fear of condemnation, be called the highest paid devotees to sport. This was revealed recently when Walter Davis, Knf Taylor and John Schaefer, top billiard stars who competed in the recent National Championship Tourney at the Hotel Astor in New York, left for Los Angeles to play a series of matches in the arduous game there. Before leaving for the east the three players were given a special $100 a day for their play at the California academy. Upon their return there is no doubt that they will be well paid when added to the money earned in giving private lessons and exhibitions. The average professional earns weekly for each man.

YOU expect a bad road to ride as it looks. It did, until the introduction of the Overland 4 Springbase.

Overland 4 does not change the road, but it does change the manner in which you can ride on it. It gives you comfort instead of dis-comfort. It gives you a smooth, sailing sensation instead of bouncing and swaying.

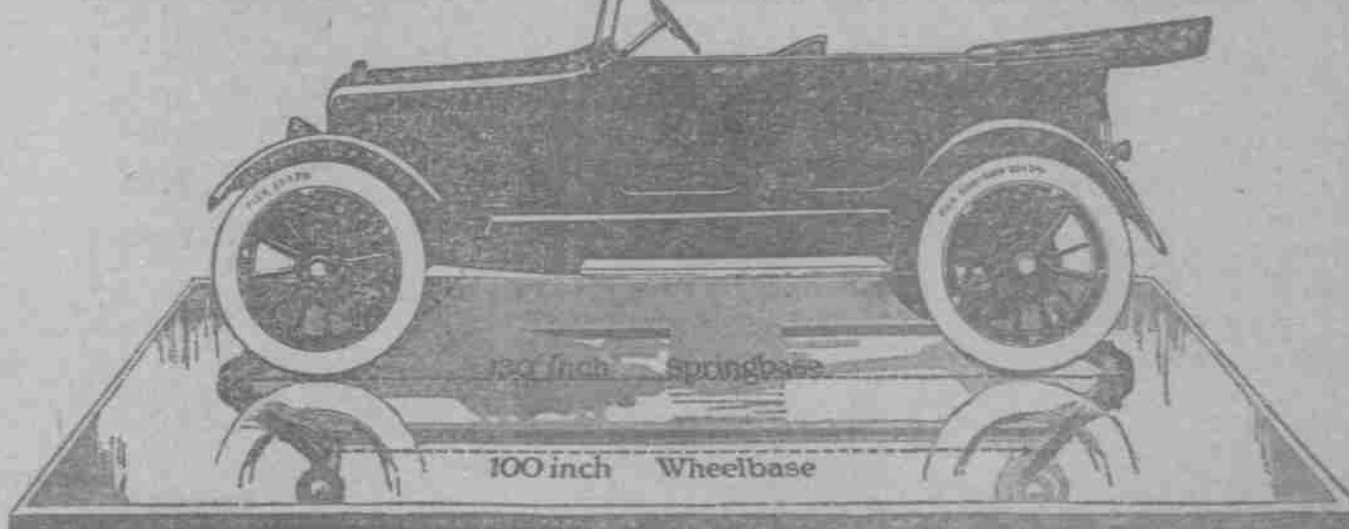

The Diagonal attachment of Three-Point Cantilever Springs at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase gives long wheelbase road steadiness. Yet Overland 4 retains all the advantages—lightness, economy, and ease of handling, of 100-inch wheelbase.

This means an altogether new standard of riding comfort, a noteworthy reduction in the wear and tear which lessens the efficiency of a car. The new springs give longer life to every part and thus minimize upkeep and replacement costs.

Tires wear longer because cushioned against hammering blows. Light weight means marked economy in gas, oil and running expense.

Overland 4's equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.
